Little Theatre Scene of 'Dulcy' Production; Revamped Theatre Used

By ROY LAUGESEN

Dulcy presented by State's College dramatic group comes to Little Theatre tonight at 8:15. The Kaufman-Connelly comedy has been chosen as the initial production to be staged on the boards of the semi-revamped Little Theatre.

Featuring a new time low in prices at twenty-five cents per ducat, College Theatre has inaugurated a new policy in offering theatre-goers entertainment on our stage thereby saving high rental fees for an outside auditorium and passing on the saving to the students.

Headed by Pat McNamara, as Dulcy, and Al Pellet as her husband, the production of Dulcy terminates five weeks of extensive rehearsing. Included in the cast is State's original laugh-creator, Clem Zannini, who takes the hilarious role of C. Roger Forbes. Clem is one of the veterans of College Theatre and tonight's role should steer him on to heights greater than he has ever received.

Forty-Five State Graduates Head S. F. List of Preferred Teachers

S. F. State College placed the first forty-five teachers on the new elementary school teachers preferred list released recently by J. P. Nourse, superintendent of public schools in San Francisco. Of 280 teachers to successfully pass the December examinations, 218 are graduates of this college. This number amounts to 77½% of the total list.

Eleven others of the successful candidates were at one time or another enrolled at State, thus boosting the average to 81.7%.

Sybil Graves, State graduate, placed first both in the written and oral examination. She was followed by Mildred Lorraine Walsh, Editor of the 1934 Franciscan and member of Alpha Phi Gamma. Hazel Griffiths, fifteenth on the list, Jimmie Stinchcomb, twenty-fourth, and Beverley Lyon, sixty-fourth, are also members of the journalism fraternity.

Low Seniors Meet

Tonight, the Low Senior class holds a combined class meeting and weinie roast at Sigmund Stern grove from 6:00-12:00 p.m.

Dancing and refreshments will be provided. The evening is free to class members, 15c to outsiders.

Committee for the affair is composed of Cy Atkinson, Marie Quartararo, Charles Martin, Elaine Savomey, Blanche Savey and Alice Mitchell.

Yell Tryouts Due

Monk Delma, newly elected Yell King, has set Tuesday, May 11 at four o'clock as the time for the tryouts for assistant yell leader. The second and final tryouts will be held one week later. Annex B2 will be the scene of the tryouts. Four assistants will be chosen, two men and two women. All students holding a student body card are eligible to compete for the positions.

Subject B Ex Given

The Subject B examination will be given on Saturday morning from 9 to 10. Students are urged to be on time since the examination is limited to one hour. The English Department suggests that students take the Subject B examination in their freshman year so that they may discover their weaknesses and have ample time to remove them before they are to enter practice teaching. The examination may be repeated as many times as may be necessary.

Senior Placement

Students who expect to graduate in May or July who intend registering with the placement office are jeopardizing their chances of getting letters on file if they do not register immediately since the faculty will soon be leaving for their vacation.

Novelty Features Promised; Noel Thomas Leads Orchestra

Staters get their big chance to swing at the Senior Ball to be held at the Fairmont Hotel Gold Room on May 15.

Bids for the dance will go on sale in College Hall on May 7 at $1.50 per couple. A surprise feature will be used in conjunction with the program.

Stan Sieber, publicity chairman for the senior class, revealed that "the programs will have a practical use after the dance. Other than this, no further information can be given out about the programs".

Nat Thomas, a former State student, will lead the dance orchestra, committee members announced.

One of the features of the Ball will be that formal dress is not required. Tuxes and corsages are optional.

The Ball committee includes Monk Delma, Dolores Waters, Marie Quartararo, Charles Martin, Navaree Baggett, Barbara Smith, Helene Rowan and Stan Sieber.

Row Boat Back By Demand

By Clarice Dechent

Popular demand calls for a repeat performance of Cap'n Bud's Ro-Boat show on Friday evening, May 21. It has been agreed among those who saw the first show that it is one of the finest variety shows to be given at State, and many expressed interest in a second presentation.

The same large group of stars will participate in the Minstrel Show, under the direction of Interlocutor Cap'n Bud Decker. Frederic Burk Auditorium will again be furnished to accommodate an audience of five hundred.

A feature of the second performance will be the reduction in the price of tickets. Admission will now be twenty-five cents per ticket. An even larger audience than that of the opening performance is anticipated.

End-men Ed Cockrum and Vernon Rees, assisted by "Monk" Delma promise some new gags, as well as repeating the best of the old. Among other stars and features will be Helen Louise Cox, soprano; the Jail-bird male quartet; Bill Preston's frog-pitched "Lazy Bones;" Dawn Wilson's xylophone solo; dances by Iva-Beth Cain, Nadezda Lawrence, Frances Twohig, Audrey Stewart, Bernardine Badger, Paul De Poister, and Phil Ford; two-piano numbers by Olga Johnsen and Clarice Dechent; Lorraine Sullivan, Connie James, and Gertrude Jorgensen in novelty songs; and others.

The show will consist of a prologue, as before, followed by two acts or groups of numbers. The new college hymn will be presented by an A Cappella group, with featured soloists.

Money taken in by the administrators of the affair will go to defray some of the expenses of the 1937 Franciscan. A large attendance at the Minstrel Show will assure a better annual for the current year, as well as offering an outstanding show.

According to Cap'n Bud, the same committee chairman will function for the second performance. Decker also states, "The Rehearsal presented on April 30 was fine. Now we're ready for the biggest and best performance ever given at State. We'll see you all there."

Tit-Bits From Other Campi

A twisted story about his pants earned a Southern Methodist University freshman a pardon for cutting his mathematics quiz section.

When he came to class the next day, the professor questioned him to find out why he had skipped.

"I have gym just before math," explained the alibi-er. "Tuesday I was in such a hurry to get dressed in time for class that I poked my foot through the seat of my pants."

* * *

To break the tension before a recent examination, a Miami University professor joshed the boys a little. After passing out the questions, he said:

"Gentlemen, this examination will be conducted on the honor system. Please take places three seats apart in alternate rows."

Even burglar alarms don't do any good if brothers in the house cry "wolf." At least, that is what members of the Chi Phi fraternity at the University of California learned.

The alarm was installed a few days after the radio of Douglas Gardiner had been stolen from his room.

Not long ago, the warning bell rang early in the morning, and pajama-clad men, armed with paddles, knives and baseball bats, charged down from the third floor sleeping quarters.

"Don't shoot," cried familiar voices, and two brothers scrambled to their feet from the floor, admitting that they had cried "wolf."

As soon as all the fellows had gone back to bed and quieted down, the alarm rang a second and third time.

"Aw to hell with 'em," mumbled most of the sleepy brethren, and they turned over in bed—all but Gardiner, who didn't want to be a two-time victim. He tore down the stairs three at a jump, reaching the ground floor in time to see a shadowy figure flit across the street and leap into a waiting car.

Occupants of second floor rooms found their wallets lightened by $25.

A. M. S. Smoker

Headed by such "untouchables" in the field of entertainment as Clem Zannini; Bill Lenhart; Hal Delma; Hal Jacobs; the Jailbird Quartette; Hal Beseman; Billy Hammond; Marshall Blum; George Paiva and J. W. Gallagher, with Tom Thorpe acting as Master of Ceremonies, not to mention the "Beef Trust Chorus" which contains such characters as "Take-the-people's-money-away" Laugeson; "Back-slapper" Carrothers; Jack Martin; Blum; Jacobs and a few others, the AMS monstrous Smoker will be held in Annex B-2, May 13 at 8 p.m. The price of admission to this climax of AMS social activities for the Spring semester will be around the nominal sum of 10 cents.

"We want to put this event over and it is up to every fellow to come on down on the 13th. It will be worth your time and dime, as there will be a Chorus, 10 big acts, Community Singing and lots of eats! As it is a Smoker, the "Men Only" sign will be hung out, therefore enabling the men in the cast to go to town, unhampered by the presence of the female species," stated Thorpe on the issue.

Summer Camp Program Given

Further plans for the College camp course to be offered this summer by Coach Dan C. Farmer were announced this week.

Following is the daily program as outlined by those in charge:

6:45—Flag raising.
7:00—Breakfast.
8:00-9:30 — Organization and administration of camp program.
10:00-11:30—First aid.
12:00—Lunch.
1:00-2:30—Leathercraft, archery or nature study.
3:00-4:00 — Swimming and camp cookery.
5:30—Dinner.
6:00-7:30—Recreational games and hikes.
8:00-9:30—Campfire program.

Open to both men and women, twenty-five students of each sex will be taken from State and the remainder of the camp students will be made up of fifty persons from W. P. A. Men's and women's camps are to be located approximately one-quarter of a mile apart.

There are no requirements for admission to the camp, but since State enrollment is limited to fifty, Mr. Farmer advises that those interested see him at once. Blankets are the only paraphernalia required, but students are asked to bring any and all musical instruments.

Mr. Farmer remarked today that although the camp will be organized on a semi-military basis, conduction of camp maintenance, eating and sleeping will as nearly as possible approach the cave-man era.

Students should register in the registrar's office immediately and five dollars for course charge must be filed before May 15th. Total charge will be $19.00.

CINDER SEASON GIVEN REVIEW; TEAM PROSPERS ON WHOLE

Gater Staff Pick All-Star All-Time Gater Diamond Squad

Editors Select Important Men For Positions After Deliberation

By BILL ROSE

About this time of the year with the athletic seasons having closed, sports writers get together to pick some kind of an All-Star team. Being that State is in no athletic league, an All-Conference team is out of the question. Nevertheless Harold Martin, college publicity director, and the writer have joined forces to pick an all-time, all-star Gater baseball team.

As to the qualifications of the two writers, it might be explained that Harold Martin has been writing State athletics longer than any other scribe attached to either the Golden Gater or Franciscan. In regards to the writer, he has been a member of the baseball team in the capacity of manager and player for the last three years. It was during these three years that the Gater nine really reached its peak, so Ye Scribe has had opportunity to see in action the players that made up some great State baseball teams.

Having thus presented our credentials, we pass to the subject in question—the baseball team. We hereby nominate and for the reasons listed below the following All-Time, All-Star S. F. State Baseball Team:

Pitcher—GEORGE POWELLS
Catcher—WILLIAM ABBEY
First Base—ROBERT MARCUS
Second Base—JOSEPH LEE
Third Base—FLOYD WALTER
Short Stop—KENNETH WILKES
Left Field—WILLIAM PATRICK BOWERS
Center Field—HAROLD WOOD
Right Field—RICHARD OSBORNE

Powells—Pitched with his head as much as with his left flipper. Smart baseball player and powerful hitter. Once carried with S. F. Seals. In 1936 he defeated San Jose, Fresno, and Cal-Aggies twice, and S. F. J. C. once.

Abbey—Best throwing catcher to play for State. Sparks the whole team and plays to win. Hit .500% this season. Another clever man.

Marcus—Typically built first baseman, big, tall enough. Was good fielder with strong arm. However, Marcus' best point is his hitting, having led the Gater team in 1936, batting over .400%. A real broken-seam hitter.

Lee—Forced out this season with a torn ligament, Lee nevertheless makes the team on the strength of good fielding and quick pivot on double plays. Although not a heavy hitter, he held his own with the opposing hurlers.

Walter—An All-City man while in high school, this fellow had played enough semi-pro ball to know the score while on the diamond. Was a good fielder, and although not a powerful hitter, was consistent enough to place himself second in the final 1936 hitting averages.

Wilkes—Wilkes is another man who plays for keeps, a good quality in a ball player. A flashy fielder, with a strong, accurate arm. His speed makes him a very valuable player, having led the team in stolen bases for the last three years. Fine lead-off man.

Bowers—The best throwing outfielder to play for State. Besides having the power to wheel the ball in from the outer regions, he had "strike" accuracy. Bowers covered a lot of ground and hit in the pinch.

Wood—Long distance hitter, usually led the team in homers, triples, or doubles, and placed about third or fourth in the final averages. Wood covered more ground in the field than any other Gater outfielder.

Osborne—Although a freshman this year, Osborne cut out a place for himself in the Gater outfield as a dependable fly chaser. His hitting was inconsistent but powerful. As a left handed hitter the short right field of Roberts Field helped him crash the fences quite often.

Tennis Team Ends In Cellar

With the Golden Gaters, claiming the only undefeated man in the league, Ronnie English, finishing in the cellar position, the newly-formed Northern California Intercollegiate Tennis Association has just finished its first season of play.

NO VICTORIES

The Gaters, which under the leadership of Dan Farmer, started the tennis association, for the first season in their history, came out of the season without a single victory to glorify their record. In previous seasons, the State racquet men were able to defeat practically all of the other teams in the league.

ENGLISH LEADS

Ronnie English led the Gater attack all through the season, winning all his matches, as he had done for the three years previously. English, blanket winner, last year was rated the eighteenth best tennis player in the State of California, which has provided the best players in the country. With the addition of this year's competition, Ronnie will probably jump up ahead a few places in the ratings.

Dave Schutz Chooses All-Intramural Team

By DAVE SCHUTZ

Following the precedent set last year, your reporter has attempted to select an all-intramural baseball team from the twelve squads that competed in the past competition just completed yesterday.

The Block "S" nine met the Golden Gaters in the finals after beating Newman Club in the semis.

Following is the squad:

Down In Front

By ED. SMITH

Comes the end of the term, and the State athletes hang up their spikes and bats and gloves in favor of the swimming in the briny deep and such. All in all, the Gater fared much better this year in all branches of sports than ever has been previously. Coaches Dave Cox, Dan Farmer, and Hal Harden all a great big bunch of orchids, and here on paper I'm presenting them with them.

As new Athletic Manager, I can promise you that next year will see the Gaters definitely on the up swing of the pendulum of sports. We will have much greater facilities with which to practice, more new material, and a greater spirit than has been shown here in many years.

ORCHIDS TO STAFF

To the members of my staff I can hardly give you the thanks that you deserve. Bill Rose, Dave Schutz, Ken Johnson, Ernie Miguel, Tom Thorpe, and last but not least, Fran Weinberger have all given you the best talent that they could muster around this school; their contents in their stories were always accurate, precise, and with the finesse of mature writers of sports. Tanx heaps, gang!

INTRAMURAL PROSPERS

This year more than twice the number of men who were out for intramural sports previously turned out this year and showed more interest and enthusiasm then ever before. It was through the efforts and co-operation of the managers and coaches that this was accomplished.

ABOUT HAL MARTIN

This quiet, unassuming publicity lad Harold Martin comes in for his share of the honors for the splendid work that he did in gaining recognition for this college, not only in the realm of men's athletics, but also in the way of women's athletics and the way in which he conducted the building campaign in the city papers. Orchids to you, Hal!

THIRTY FOR TERM

And so I will call it 30 for today friends, and leave you all until next term when I hope to be sports editor again and bring you the news again. Good-bye now!

Cox Sees New Stars Rise; Thinclads Have Good Season

Hopkins, Ebert, Kuder and Others Contribute Much To Success

Coach Dave Cox, looking over the past track season, nods his wise, old red head and smiles. He sees that March inter-class track meet with marks that were anything but good. He sees the parade of stars that were his for three years, march away from the cinder paths. Stone has gone with his galaxy of points. The assignment he has to take is anything but easy but the characteristic Cox "fight" is still there.

He has several rays of light. Hoppy Hopkins, chawing at the bit, is ready to go to the post in four events. Cox gives him free rein and the dynamic Hopkins goes to work on the high, low, hurdles, the high jump and takes over new assignments, the broad jump and the century sprint. It's another "Iron Man" act. Easy going Steve Ebert suddenly materializes into a steady point maker in the discus. "Biff" Shreeve longingly turns his back on his favorite two-mile event, for seconds and thirds in the shorter mile. Stan Kuder stretches his legs for a couple of extra seconds in the half-mile. Frank Collins deserted the tennis courts and turned out to be a decent quarter-miler. Then Lindlow, Leavitt and Cota were still around and Cox had a nucleus to work on.

HOW IT RAINED

But then it rained. Ods Bodkins, how it rained. Days, weeks, and still rain. Cox and his boys start running around mumbling to themselves. The Gater sports writers go into convulsions trying to think up new names for Jupiter Pluvius. In between the showers Cox works on new material. Evans clips off a few seconds in the hundred. Young Doug Crary gets the swing of the pole vault. D. Hopkins turns in sweet times in the dashes. Dick Hurst comes out to throw the javelin. Yet the rain goes on.

Well, along comes the sun and State goes up to Santa Rosa. It was a sweet thing to watch. The Gaters are like a bunch of spring colts turned loose after the winter stalling. Hoppy garners twenty points, Evans wins the century, Cota, Shreeve and Kline make it one, two, three in the mile. Hurst and Ebert take the javelin and the discus. And State has another track team.

COX COMMENTS

The long awaited parade is on. The Purple and Gold runs up over the colors of Marin, Modesto and S. F. J. C. The Cal-Aggies, smarting under the whalloping of yester year, come into Kezar with fire and the Gaters suffer a set back. Chico runs off with the old rivalry meet, and there are the two defeats of the year. "Dynamite" Dave Cox taking raw material out of the class rooms and choking it with that read-headed, fighting spirit has developed another team. Breathing confidence into them, driving, with one eye on the sky for the ever present rain, Cox whipped them into shape. But characteristic of him, he asks no credit. He just looks back and smiles and says, "Well done, my lads, well done."

GATERETTE GOSSIP . .

By FRAN

I want to be sentimental—Do you mind? . . . There is more to my moodiness than the fact that this is the last issue . . . To tell the truth I'm glad this is the last "Gaterette Gossip by Fran" . . . It has been like an axe at my neck—or somethin' . . . Thanx to Ed Smith . . . I got by . . . As I was saying before I began to wander from the issue . . . Last time I'll write for State, saying good-bye to my "dear, good friends" (oh, yeah!) and finals confronting us all . . . It makes me blue to think of what we all—"college comrades" have got to put up with at the close of each term . . . Something should be done about it.

TANX TO BABS

While I'm saying good-bye—I want to throw bunches of Petunias around . . . Babette Lau deserves two bunches . . . Between you and I, and the lamp-post—think it's swell to be President of the W. A. A., but that's because we like being Prexies . . . Babs worked her fingers to the bone to make this term's W. A. A. a success . . . and bless her, she did . . . As and matter of fact, I have a confession to make . . . Do you remember a couple of weeks ago this column went over with a bang! . . . You know—really sounded good . . . Well Babs wrote it . . . Next term the "Gaterette Gossip" will be tops—each issue . . . Babs, you did a fine piece of work this term . . . Congratulations.

JUST A NOTE

Here's somethin'—every girl running for office in the W. A. A. is worthy of a position . . . Sorry you can't all win . . . Don't misunderstand my intentions . . . I'm not entering politics just mentioning them . . . Election is in full swing right now in the Student Body office . . . Go and vote!

REAL GOSSIP

Now for some dope . . . Snoops from the W. A. A. week-end trip . . . Bev Guichard teasing the calves with an empty-pail . . . Helen Shinn up to her ole' tricks . . . got lost again, but the worst part was . . . she lost us with her . . . and the worst part was Helen had to sit down on some nettles . . . (the rebound was terrific) . . . Opened bonfire ceremony with war dance, roasted marshmallows, ate peanuts, and told stories (ho-hum) . . . Seven of us mosquito challengers slept on the front porch and were awakened next morning by a couple of cows chawing up the front yard (which reminds me of a good story . . . better skip this.)

Some baseball game Monday noon . . . The poor faculty . . .how they took it . . . Watch for more doings next Monday . . . Good-bye.

WE DON'T HOPE YOU CATCH COLD, but we do hope you catch a Franciscan.

A. W. S. Elections

At their regular official election held Wednesday in the Student Body office, the women students of State College turned out en masse to cast their votes for the candidates of their choice.

Frances Bolander was elected president. Frances Lynn gained the office of vice-president with ease, having had no opposition. For the office of secretary, Lorraine Arrata and Betty Zech each received a large number of votes. At time of publication it could not be determined who won.
